

20 things to see, hear

ART | ZERO METRES ABOVE SEA LEVEL

It's likely that Marrnyula and Rerrkirwana Munungurr from Wandawuy, East Arnhem Land, know more about climate change than most. Introduced through a display of prints from well-known Indigenous artist Judy Watson, the Yolnu sisters' intricately rendered grid paintings on bark and ceremonial poles refer to the fine ecological balance between country and fresh food supply in their homeland. SW
